AIR MASTERY

British Demand Victory Through Air Route—Claim Mastery of Air Now Is With Our Cause.

London, May 23—The recent air raids far into the German interior are arousing popular demands for efficiently planned and uninterrupted air drives that will paralyze the empire industrially and crush the German morale.

The rally summaries of enemy machines shot down and tonnage of bombs dropped are eagerly followed. The keynote of the press comment is that if the aerial weapon is used ruthlessly the war can be brought to a triumphant conclusion.

F. G. Kellaway, parliamentary secretary for the ministry for munitions, has the popular view in an interview today in which he says:

"It is clear that we have reached superiority in the air, both as regards personnel and material. If we use this superiority without limitations, except for the regard for humanity which the British always observe, we can bring the war to a successful conclusion by air drives."

While pleased with the recent success of British flights into Germany, experts and others voice a demand for more effective and sustained bombing raids along the Rhine valley where five-sixths of the German munitions are made.

British troops again carried out a number of raids at various sectors during the last 24 hours, netting them numerous prisoners and some machine guns. The Germans tried several times to penetrate the French and British lines but were invariably driven back with losses. Artillery action continues in all of the vital sectors of the front between Ypres and Oise. The German firing has been spreading northward from Ypres to Nieuport, where the lines rest in the sea.

This German bombardment between Ypres and the sea has not been intense enough to indicate serious aggressive intention on that front, but the possibilities that the main blow may fall all fall on this extreme northern sector, where the Belgians would have to bear the brunt, is not lost sight of.

The Paris correspondent at the British front telegraphed that the artillery and the aerial activity has reached unprecedented intensity. In a certain sector 150,000 shots have been fired within 24 hours.

The correspondent looks for the chief German attack north of the Somme. Incidentally nineteen German brigadier generals have been killed on that front since the offensive began, March 21.

Tonight's bulletin from Haig reports successful British raids in the Avesy wood, which is a continuous storm center northwest of Albert and south of Hellesene, some distance further above Albert. French troops penetrated the German line in a raid north of Bailleul and to the east of Loire. Similar successful enterprises by the British and French were reported in the day bulletin. All reports agree that the Germans are badly worried over the ever increasing activity of the allied aviators so much that Berlin again resorted today to the familiar charge that heavy property damage and casualties were being caused among Belgian civilians. "Enemy aerial attacks in Belgium are increasing in frequency, say the Berlin report.

In military circles the belief is held that the harassing operations of the nifled fliers are the chief factors in delaying the German offensive.

MASS MEETING

Will Be Held at Mayslick High School Saturday Afternoon by the Mayslick Chapter of the American Red Cross.

At the Mayslick High School Saturday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. the Mayslick Chapter of the American Red Cross will hold a mass meeting.

Captain Harris, one of the two officers of the British Army who have received four decorations in this war and the Hon. W. D. Cochran of Maysville, will make the addresses.

Mr. Cochran has spoken at Mayslick and the mere mention that he will come in Red Cross Campaign insures an attendance. Captain Harris has not only received the Military Cross but has been given the first and second bars as well. Each bar signified further and additional decoration.

In addition to the Military Cross, Captain Harris has been awarded that most coveted of English decorations, the Distinguished Service Order. The official statement is as follows: The D. S. O. was awarded for operations near Cambrai, "For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. When the enemy attacked under intense bombardment and captured his trench he directed repeated bombing attacks until he had regained half the trench and established a block, which was hotly contested all day. Towards evening he led a bombing attack along both sides of the trench, which regained the whole position and resulted in the capture of five enemy machine guns. Throughout the day he led his company with great courage and determination under heavy fire, and set them a magnificent example. It was entirely due to his efforts that the position was re-established."

An hour and day has been chosen which will permit a large attendance. It is hoped by the committee that the community will show its appreciation of the character of the addresses to be made and the distinguished position of the speakers by gathering in large numbers for this meeting.

SOME GARDENER

Col. Chris Hunsicker, engineer of the mail wagon, is also a garden engineer of some big caliber. He has pens enough on his vines at present to supply a good-sized army, while his other garden suds is coming right along and will be ready for market in a few days. Chris is some gardener.

SPLENDID YOUNG SOLDIER

Delivers Fine Address at Opera House Yesterday Afternoon — Liberly Bond Donated to Red Cross.

The patriotic meeting held at the Washington Opera House yesterday afternoon, which was addressed by Captain Walker Kilroy Harris, of the British Army, Sons, W. D. Cochran and James N. Kehoe was one of the very best ever held in this city.

Mr. Cochran opened the meeting with a splendid address on America's position in the war, and the great cause for which she is fighting. He then introduced Mr. J. P. McIntyre of Flemingsburg, who told how Fleming county had gone "over the top" on the first day of its drive.

Captain Harris, was then introduced and interestingly told of his experiences in fighting in the trenches and in "No Man's Land." His description of events on the Western Front, in which he was connected was greatly enjoyed by the audience. This veteran of four expeditions "over the top" told vividly of scouting in No Man's Land and of hand to hand encounters with Boches. Captain Harris has been wounded four times, and is now recovering from an ugly head wound received in the first line trenches.

Col. James N. Kehoe, head of the Red Cross organization for Mason county in connection with his report of the splendid work accomplished in the present campaign, stated that Mr. R. K. Hoechel, cashier of the Bank of Maysville had presented the Mason County Chapter with a $100 Liberty Bond and as the organization was in need of funds he announced the bond would be sold to the highest bidder. After much spirited bidding, the bond was sold to Mr. John Burwell, of the

ITALY-AMERICA DAY

The nation-wide celebration in this country of Italy-America Day today, the third anniversary of our southern ally's entry into the war, marks the beginning of a new era of cordial understanding and mutual appreciation between the two countries. The vital importance of an organized effort to promote this good feeling is strikingly proven by Germany's tireless endeavor through insidious propaganda to arouse ill feeling between the two countries.

It was German propaganda rather than force of arms that nearly put Italy out of the war in the great Teutonic drive last year. And the Central Powers have not ceased for a moment their crafty efforts to isolate Italy from her allies. Italy by her prompt declaration of neutrality, released French troops from her borders in time to make possible the victory at the Marne. She stands today as a barrier between Germany and the open Mediterranean and probable victory in the great war. Hence the importance of giving to the Italian people the fullest measure of our moral support and to their government as completely as possible the backing of our armed forces.

It is to promote this important object, which has its concrete expression in the celebration of May 24th, that two great national organizations have recently been formed—the Italy America Society and the Roman Legion of America.

The purpose of the former organization is the establishing of a definite platform upon which the leading personalities of the two great nations may be enabled to exchange their best thought upon the questions of industry, economics and finance as they are understood and practised in each of these separate lines. It purposes to bring together periodically representative groups of the two nations for the purpose of cementing a more friendly and intimate relationship.

The Roman Legion is an association purely of Italians throughout the country—the first national organization of Italians in America. Its purpose is to present systematically to Italians in America and Americans extraction the true situation with regard to Germany's efforts to influence the Italian mind and to show them that America is entirely in sympathy with our Italian ally.

These two organizations and the cause they represent should receive the heartiest support of every loyal and intelligent American citizen. Every man, woman and child in the land should wear the colors of Italy today as a reconssecration of our national faith in the spiritual kinship of Garibaldi and Washington.

George Creel calls those who criticise war work and preparations blind Samsons'. George ought to refrain from calling anybody names, for if there is anybody connected with the government that lacks seventeen thousand dollars a month of doing a nickel's worth of good in a year it is George himself. For genuine service, a knot on a log is an active influence of inalienable effectiveness compared with George.—Honolulu Post.

25 TONS OF ETHER— THAT'S ONE ITEM

Only the quickest action imaginable, which included the shipment of tremendous quantities of hospital supplies from Red Cross stores in France, as well as large purchases in Italy, made the emergency work of the American Red Cross possible during the recent distress in Italy brought about by the rout of the Italian army.

No such mission for human help has ever seen the like of this heroic work by the American Red Cross in Italy.

For the winter's needs it was found that 750 tons of hospital supplies were required, and these were ordered in America for immediate delivery to Italy.

Some of the things ordered were anesthetics, surgical instruments, rubber goods, enamel ware, gauze, absorbent cotton and drugs. Just what such a shipment means is difficult for a layman to grasp.

If you'd like to see your druggist lose all his senses at once just tell him about some of these quantities that were ordered for use in Italy.

Tell him that 250 pounds of quinine were ordered. Since the war quinine has been difficult to get at any price.

It has jumped from $2.50 a pound in France to $80 a pound. Quinine is very badly needed in Italy, and this Red Cross shipment has been nothing short of a boon.

Other items which give a better idea in terms of the things which mean most to the wounded are 15 tons of chloroform and 25 tons of ether.

These items are beyond the power of the layman to visualize, but he can come nearer to picturing 2,000 bales of absorbent cotton, the quantity asked for.

Orders for all these goods for Italy were placed last winter in America, and the American Red Cross has seen to it that shipments of each item are in process of delivery right along to relieve the terrible misfortune of the people in Italy.

Renewed testimony; tested by time.

Mrs. John Burns, West Second Street, says: "I was subject to severa spells of backache and other kidney trouble. They would come on every three or six months and there were times when I was confined to bed and rendered helpless. The quick and decided benefit I received from Doan's Kidney Pills was wonderful. I have never had such severe attacks since." (Statement given February 13, 1914.)

NO TROUBLE SINCE

On November 16, 1916, Mrs. Burns said: "I have the same good words of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills today, as ever. I have not needed a kidney medicine since I took them."

Mrs. Burns is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S CIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mrs. Burns had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 60 cents at all stores. NO WORLD FAMINE (New York World)

Current talk of a possible world famine recalls the prophecy of Sir William Crooks, uttered in 1898. The British scientist presented statistics to support the proposition that in 30 years the population of the earth would be face to face with something near to starvation. The production of wheat, he said, could not keep pace with the increase in living people.

With two thirds of Sir William's prophetic period gone past, his argument would be measurably spoiled but for the existence of the great war. The earth is, indeed, moving to short rations. No natural failure of production is responsible, however, the trouble being wholly due to an abnormal call of the forces of production into fields of destruction.

According to estimates made in Scotland and quoted by the Connecticut State Council of Defense as an encouragement for enlistment in the food army, 1 acre of land, when planted with potatoes, provides food for one man 1,500 days; when planted in wheat, 700 days; when planted with oats, 470 days.

LINK COMPLETED

In the Appointment of Y. M. C. A. Secretaries on Army Transports.

Y. M. C. A. secretaries have carried their work to the troops in transport, thus an announcement just received from the National War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A., and are now promoting a systematic recreational, educational, social and religious program for the soldier boys en route by sea to France. With the sanction of the War Department each transport now carries one or two such secretaries whose function it is to do all that is possible to make the voyage both comfortable and enjoyable for the fighting men abroad.

"Games are provided, musical and movie entertainments staged, magazines and books are supplied and writing paper is issued free to the men," the statement continues. "A report of a transport worker recently arrived shows that in his equipment there were such articles as a folding organ and song books, stereopticon and slides, 2,000 magazines, a large number of books, motion-picture equipment with 20 reels, pocket testaments, writing paper, boxing gloves, medicine ball, rope quoits, checkers, dominoes, Victrola and records and a Sonora machine.

"The appointment of transport secretaries completes the link of Y. M. C. A. work, which begins with the recruits in camp, continues through the training period, comes overseas on the transports, and goes on in the camps to the front line trenches. Transport secretaries are assigned to ships, and remain on their ships as does the crew."

CONNECTICUT JUNIOR FOOD ARMY

Connecticut's junior food army of the committee of food supply promises to exceed the desired quota, according to the State Council of Defense. The boys of Rigg School, at Lakeville, Conn., have joined the food army in a body, every student signing up for the required work in addition to the task of running the 175-acre farm which the school maintains.

Long service here brings one consolation. As I have seen the gavel swing from one side of the Chamber to the other, I have become more and more convinced that patriotism is confined to no party (applause), and that while this a Government through parties, and always will be, all parties work for the best good of the country according to their light. The Forty-third Congress was one of much party contention, with men of spirit and courage and convictions on both sides. We had here then Hawley and Carnahan of Connecticut; Blount and Alex. Stephens, of Georgia; Marwell, Fort. McNutt and Morrison, of Illinois; Holman and Tyner, of Indiana; Kasson, Metcalf, and Wilson, of Iowa; Beck and John Young Brown, of Kentucky; Haines, Frye and Dale, of Maine; Butler, Palmer, and the two Horan brothers, of Massachusetts; Burroughs, Conger, and Huber, of Michigan; Mark Dunnell, of Minnesota; Laund and Lynch, of Mississippi; Hildreth, Crittenden, and Starnard, of Missouri; William Walter Phelps, of New Jersey; "Sunset" Cox, Tom Platt, Fernando Wood, William A. Wheeler, Clarkson N. Potter, and Stewart L. Woodward, of New York; Charles Foster, Garfield, Jewett, "Larry" Neal, and Gen. Sherwood, of Ohio; "Pig Iron" Kelley, Sam Randall, and Charles O'Neill, of Pennsylvania; Roger Q. Mills, of Texas; Luke Pelaud, of Vermont; Jerry Rusk, Philetus Sawyer, and Alex. Mitchell, of Wisconsin.

From the Territories were George Q. Cannon, of Utah; Martin Magruder of Montana; and Jerome R. Chaffee, Colorado.

The House never had a greater number of virile men than in that Forty-third Congress, and a nonpartisan would have found himself uncomfortable here at that time when we had sharp battles over reconstruction legislation, especially Gen. Butler's civil rights' bill. But I have no doubt that confronted with the conditions of today, Blaine and Alex. Stephens, Ben Butler and Lamar, Garfield, and Randall, and the other great party men of that day would have rallied to support the Commander in Chief of the Army and the Navy in defending the honor of the Republic. (Applause.)

SAVE 50,000 TONS SUGAR

Department of Agriculture Specialist
Find That Other Sweetening Materials May Be Used in Soft Drinks Without Hurting Quality.

Washington, May 22—Bottlers of soft drinks in the United States may save approximately 50,000 tons of sugar annually by using other sweetening materials according to investigations by specialists of the Bureau of Chemistry, United States Department of Agriculture. The Bureau of Chemistry is preparing to furnish bottles with sweetening formulas that will allow the actual sugar content in soft drinks to be cut to 50 per cent or less and at the same time will preserve the customary taste and quality of the beverages. Starch sugar, starch syrup, maltose syrup and honey are the substitutes used.

The Bureau of Chemistry specialists have cooperated with bottlers in using these to sweeten and give "body" to soft drinks. Their favorable opinions of the results have been sustained by four "testing juries," made up of representatives of the bottling industry, bureau experts, representatives of flavoring extract manufacturers and women and children representing the consuming public.

The sweetening formulas that have been tested in the bureau experiments will be furnished to bottlers and the results of the experiments will be described in detail in bottling trade publications. Restrictions on the use of sugar in soft drinks have been placed by the United States Food Administration, but it is believed that the Bureau of Chemistry experiments will allow the usual amount of these products to be manufactured without marked change in palatability or quality.

ATTENTION! Sick Women

To do your duty during these trying times your health should be your first consideration. These two women tell how they found health.

Hellam, Pa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles and a displacement. I felt all rundown and was very weak. I had been treated by a physician without results, so decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, and felt better right away. I am keeping house since last April and doing all my housework, where before I was unable to do any work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is certainly the best medicine a woman can take when in this condition. I give you permission to publish this letter."—Mrs. E. R. CRUMPTON, R. No. 1, Hellam, Pa.

Lowell, Mich.—"I suffered from cramps and dragging down pains, was irregular and had female weakness and displacement. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which gave me relief at once and restored my health. I should like to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies to all suffering women who are troubled in a similar way."—Mrs. ELISE HEIM, R. No. 6, Box 83, Lowell, Mich.

THE HOPE OF THE WORLD

By HAROLD BELL WRIGHT.

THE hope of the world is not alone that the armies of humanity will be victorious, but that the spirit and purpose of our warfare will prevail in our victory. The hope of the world is in the Red Cross, because the Red Cross is voicing this spirit and purpose that must, through the force of our arms, triumph. Just to the degree that we can evidence this Red Cross spirit of mercy and brotherhood we will hold true in the dangerous hour of victory to the ideals that have forced us into the trenches in the defense of human rights and human liberty.

The one sane and saving thought in this delirium of death that now possesses the world is the Red Cross.

Wherever the storms of battle hell rage, amid the fires of ruthless destruction, in trench and camp and hospital, these soldiers of mercy with heroism unsurpassed are carrying the flag of the highest conceivable ideals of humanity. The ideals for which our armies have taken the field are, by these unarmed hosts, proclaimed to friend and foe, in that unmistakable language of universal mercy and brotherhood. In the terms of wasted towns rebuilt, of broken humanity salvaged, of dying children rescued, of desolate families succored, the Red Cross declares the cause for which we war and proclaims the principles and ideals that must and will in the end prevail. Above the thunder of the guns, the roar of exploding mines, the crash of fallen cities and the cries of tortured humanity, the voice of the Red Cross carries clear and strong the one message of hope to our warburdened world.

The black horror of this world's crisis would be unbearable were it not for the spirit and work of this mighty force. The normal mind refuses to contemplate the situation without this saving power.

It is the knowledge that in every city, town and hamlet, men, women and children are united in this work of declaring to the world, through the Red Cross, our message of mercy and brotherhood, that keeps our hearts from sinking under the burden of woe and sustains our faith in human kind. It is the constant daily, almost hourly touch with the Red Cross work that is felt by every citizen in the land, that inspires us with courage and hope.

Out of this hell of slaughter the Red Cross will guide the warring nations to a heaven of world-wide peace and brotherhood.

Because it is the living expression of those ideals and principles in defense of which we are giving our all in lives and material wealth—because on every field of death it is proclaiming its message of life—because it keeps ever before us and the world the cause for which we war—because it will preserve us in the hour of our victory from defeating ourselves—the Red Cross is the hope of the world.

the second day of the Chautauqua here will no doubt attract a record crowd.

The people who tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth may be depended upon to make a lot of trouble.

FOREIGN TRADE HOLDS ITS OWN IN APRIL

American imports were somewhat larger in April than in March, but exports fell off slightly compared with the previous month, according to a statement issued today by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Department of Commerce.

Imports were valued at $273,000,000 as compared with $242,000,000 for March. For the ten months ended with April the value of imports was $2,362,000,000 against $2,072,000,000 for the corresponding period in 1917.

Exports fell off from $530,000,000 in March to $50,000,000 in April. For the ten months ended with April the value of exports was $4,894,000,000, a falling off from the $5,167,000,000 for a similar ten months' period in 1917.

Imports of gold continued at a low figure in April, less than $3,000,000 being received. Only $86,000,000 worth was imported during the ten months ended with April as compared with $334,000,000 for a similar period in 1917. Exports of gold were also light during April, the total being less than $4,000,000. The total exports for the ten months' period were $185,000,000, a slight increase over the $167,000,000 for the corresponding period in 1917.

Imports and exports of silver have been above the average of previous years, the imports for the ten months' period in 1918 amounting to $59,000,000 as compared with $28,000,000 a year ago and the exports to $84,000,000 as compared with $63,000,000 in 1917.

FARMERS' PART IN WAR

(Leslie's)

The slow progress made by the Federal Farm Loan Banks in financing the farmers makes it still incumbent on the private agencies to provide, as far as millions of dollars of the needed funds. This they are doing as rapidly as feasible, but they do not possess unlimited means of their own for this purpose. They have to obtain the investing public. On the latter it depends whether or not the thousands of agricultural enterprises which associations shall thrive or shall be hampered and perhaps undone.

American farmers are paying $400 a minute, or over $602,000 a day, interest on loans. Experts estimate the total amount of farm mortgages in the United States at $4,000,000,000. One-half of this amount, or $800,000,000, goes due annually and is replaced by new mortgages. The business is so large that the Farm Mortgage Bankers' Association of America, at its national convention in Kansas City next October, will earnestly consider measures of great importance to both borrowers and investors.

Y. W. C. A. MEMORIAL PILGRIMAGE

One thousand women will make a memorial pilgrimage from the American National Red Cross headquarters in Washington, D. C., to the Washington Monument grounds May 30. If the plans off the Washington Young Men's Christian Association are carried out, a program that will have dual significance as a memorial to the heroic dead and a dedication of the services of the living in winning the war has been arranged.

BACK AGAIN

Mary Jennelle Ellis, who was sent to St. Joseph's Orphanage Wednesday, came back yesterday.

One of the most distressing cases that has come under the supervision of the Alms Committee of the City Council for many years is that of the Ellis family of Lee street, and the public may as well know some of the facts in the case.

The family consists of the aged mother of Mrs. Mary Ellis, Mrs. Brown, who is almost blind and an invalid, the mother, Mrs. Mary Ellis, wife of John Ellis, and the thirteen-year-old daughter, Mary Jennelle Ellis. They reside in Lee street, and they have been a care on the city for some time, as the mother cannot leave her aged parent and the daughter is too young to be of any material assistance. For the betterment of their condition, and to allow the girl to get a proper education, the Alms Committee has been endeavoring to induce the three to take a home in the city almshouse, but Mrs. Ellis has stoutly and stubbornly refused all efforts of the committee, and thus they are daily being forced to the extreme end of bitter poverty.

Wednesday morning the mother and child were haled into Judge Purcell's Juvenile Court, and after hearing numerous testimony, the Judge ordered the girl taken from the mother, and she was sent by her guardian, Mr. W. T. Cummins, in care of Miss Hughes of the City Mission, to St. Joseph Orphanage at Newport, to remain until she became 18 years of age. Through the kindness of Mr. Tim Buckley, the child was given a complete new outfit.

In some manner she got out of the institution, went to Fort Thomas, where she met a Maysville soldier, who gave her money and she arrived in this city yesterday afternoon.

Both the mother and child will be taken before County Judge Purcell today and a jury will determine what is to be done with this girl.

To those who have had to handle this case the worry has been great, all trying to do the thing that was absolutely the best for the three unfortunate, but through Mrs. Ellis' abstinent ways were blocked and it is a pity there is not some law whereby such cases could be disposed of without so much red tape.

Miss Hughes, Miss Casey and several other ladies of this city are to be highly commended for the creditable work they have done in this particular case and are doing in many other cases in this city.
